REPORT CAUSES SENSATION.

Norfolk City Veterinary Tells of Diseased Condition of Cattle Killed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 5.—The report of Dr. J. Plummer Baldwin, city veterinarian, in which he alleges that two-thirds of the cattle killed in Norfolk are infected with tuberculosis, and that Norfolk is the dumping ground for diseased cattle, because heretofore there has been no system of locally inspecting beef killed, has created a general sensation in the city. Dr. Baldwin has filed his report with the Board of Control, following his first month in the recently created office. Owing to the fact that the slaughter pens are located in the county, he is finding great difficulty in enforcing the city laws, as he is unable to force the butchers to destroy infected beef. He confirms the report that beef recently barred from Norfolk was sold in Portsmouth.

NEWS NOTES OF VIRGINIA

Danville.—W. Belt Samuels, slayer of Sheriff William V. Flannagan, of Draper, N.C., whom he shot and killed in this city on October 24, 1908, will be placed on trial for the second time here in the Corporation Court, Judge A. M. Allen presiding, on next Monday morning. The case has attracted widespread attention and the rehearing is the result of a decision of the Supreme Court of Virginia handed down last November, which failed to affirm the verdict of the Danville Corporation Court, in which Samuels was sentenced to serve a term of eighteen years in the penitentiary.

Harrisonburg.—Six men have started on a bear hunt into the Shenandoah Mountains, west of Briery Branch, and as they are experienced hunters, they will surely have a bear when they return home. For they very seldom go without getting one. Those that went on the hunt were J. R. Long, James Hoy, Phil Miller, J. M. and R. W. Howdysheill and J. W. Javins.

Lexington.—Judge S. H. Letcher, of the Circuit Court, Tuesday morning entered an order appointing Major Thomas M. Wade, assistant auditor of the revenue for Lexington District, to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Commissioner Andrew W. Varner. There were a number of candidates, and Judge Letcher carried out a policy he was heard to announce, that he proposed to appoint a Confederate veteran to the office if one competent applied. Major Wade is a veteran of the Rockbridge Artillery, in which command his record won the esteem of his comrades.

Culpeper.—William M. Nicholas, one of the engineers at the plant of the Security Cement Company, near Hagerstown, is dead as the result of drinking poisoned water from an old well. He was formerly a locomotive engineer, but left the railroad service to enter the artillery corps of the army. He was discharged from the latter on account of falling eyesight.

Alexandria.—In spite of the formation of heavy ice on the river this winter, the shipment of railway ties from Alexandria and points along the river was not stopped, barges being brought up the river light to land and loaded barges being taken away at every opportunity that it was possible for a tug and barge to get through the ice. Until this year it has been customary to stop the tie-handling business early in the winter and not to resume until spring opened. The Baltimore barge Wisconsin, one of the fleet that arrived on the Potomac during the ice-making period, and which loaded a portion of her cargo at Aquia Creek, was yesterday brought up to the Alexandria shipyard to complete her cargo for New York.

Norfolk.—The proposition for the annexation of outlying districts of the city, giving Norfolk four more wards, or a total of twelve, increasing the city's population by fully 25,000, is temporarily held up, owing to the fact that a number of the residents want these territories to be immediately classed as full city wards, paying the city rate of taxation, and receiving the police and fire protection now accorded other wards. In order that this may be done it will be necessary to secure special State legislation, and the idea of the promoters is to get this before proceeding further. The present plan of annexation is for the old rate of taxation to continue five years, the city expending only the money received from the respective wards for the government and improvement of the ward.

Strasburg.—Traffic was blocked on Main Street several minutes one evening this week, when a cow, which was very thirsty from wandering over the pavements of our little town, stopped near the principal square in the town and began to drink out of a large pool of water that was standing on the pavement. Those traveling this street had to wait until the cow, which was not until she had her fill of water. Fix the pavement and catch the cows that wander around, and the trouble will cease.

Woodstock.—Lieutenant John Magruder has been ordered to report at the War Department at once for duty in the United States Army. He is a son of Major and Mrs. J. W. Magruder, of this place, and graduated at the head of his class in 1905 at the Virginia Military Institute, receiving the Jackson-Hope medal, the highest honor that can be conferred by that widely-known institution of learning. Lieutenant Magruder leaves a host of friends in Woodstock, who, while regretting to see him leave the old home town, are glad to know of his promotion. He leaves this (Friday) morning.

Waynesboro.—This town has gone through the throes of an alarming smallpox scare, which, within a few days, but an expert has pronounced the disease nothing more than the result of acute indigestion, and the whole community, though a great load had been just lifted from its shoulders. A visitor here was declared by local physicians to be suffering from smallpox, and all in touch with the case were quarantined until the arrival of an expert yesterday afternoon, who diagnosed the case as already stated.

68 BRANDIES AND SODA W. THAW'S NEW MARK

Pittsburgh Proves 20 Is Below Limit. Doctors Busy, Mother Angry, Finance Is Silent.

Pittsburgh, February 5.—William Thaw, the favorite cousin of Harry K. Thaw, whose mother yesterday began court proceedings to have him declared a habitual drunkard, has again startled Pittsburgh by his feats of drinking. His mother is once more conferring with her attorneys regarding action against her son, who before begged or on promise that he would be good.

The record of sixty-eight brandies and soda was established recently by William Thaw III, and he has only now been released from the care of physicians who had him in hand for many days after this feat.

The Allegheny Country Club, the most fashionable organization in the city, has been the scene. Thaw appears to have resented the insinuation that he could not drink twenty brandies and soda at one sitting, and with a fairly good gallery he started in to pass the mark of twenty. After the "sixty-eight" collapse.

It had been expected that announcement of the engagement of young Thaw to Mrs. Julia Watson Horne, the divorced wife of Bernard Horne of Pittsburgh, was about to be made. The drinking bout is even said to have been a sort of premature celebration, friends of the bride-to-be declaring there will not be any announcement—at least not until it is known what Mamma Thaw intends to do with Willie.

FARMERS MAKE APPEAL

West County Board to Appoint Commissioner of Agriculture. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greensboro, N. C., February 5.—At a largely attended meeting of the courthouse here to-day, of farmers composing membership in the Guilford County branch of the Farmers' Cooperative Union, a resolution urging the Board of County Commissioners to employ a competent farmer to fill the position of commissioner of agriculture for Guilford county was unanimously adopted.

Although the sessions of the union were executive, it was freely given out that the resolution was the occasion of several enthusiastic talks, commendatory of the law authorizing this office, which was passed by the last Legislature.

The whole discussion turned on whether it was not high time to create for the county a special department of agriculture, to look after the county's interests in this important matter, as is done in the matter of schools and roads. It was unanimously agreed that there should be a commissioner for the county, to act in co-operation with the national and State Boards of Agriculture.

A committee was selected to present the resolution to the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting next Tuesday. The law under which the board is asked to act was introduced by Representative Gordon, and was passed at the last General Assembly.

Hospital Under Quarantine. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., February 5.—Local officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway have been instructed not to send patients to the Clifton Forge Hospital, because it is under smallpox quarantine.

SENATOR DANIEL IMPROVED. Not Yet Able, However, to Resume His Duties in Washington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., February 5.—It was learned to-day that Senator John W. Daniel has no definite plans relative to his return to the Senate in the near future at Washington. This is the result of his physician's orders, requiring that he undertake no arduous work for the present. At the same time, Major Daniel gives some attention daily to his business affairs, and drives each fair day. Since returning from Philadelphia last fall, where he suffered a severe attack of pneumonia, he has steadily improved, and hopes soon to be restored in health.

New Daily Paper for Staunton. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Staunton, Va., February 5.—R. S. Turk, proprietor of the Weekly Spectator, admits that he and several others have applied for a charter for a daily morning paper. Others associated with him are Captain Hugh C. Braxton, the Mayor, Colonel H. H. Wayt and John T. Harman, all "well" men, the last named having been put out of the liquor business when Staunton voted dry. The paper, if started, will advocate licensing the sale of liquor.

NEGROES IN FATAL FIGHT. One Woman Kills Another and Makes Claim of Self-Defense.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greensboro, N. C., February 5.—This afternoon two negro women got into a fight at a house in a negro suburb, resulting in the killing of Jessie Crisp by Emma Walker. The Crisp woman was shot through the heart, and fell dead in her tracks.

The murderess made her escape, but was found by Policeman Causey, after a three-hours' search, and she is now in jail. She declares that she shot in self-defense.

WIDOW RECEIVES $10,000.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winston-Salem, N. C., February 5.—The Southern Railway has paid to Mrs. Virgil E. Holcomb, of Mt. Airy, $10,000 for the death of her husband, who was one of the dozen persons killed in the wreck near Brown Summit, December 15. Mr. Holcomb was one of the leading lawyers and citizens of Mt. Airy, and was returning from a business trip to Richmond when he lost his life.

Sim—Pierston. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., February 5.—Robert Sim, of New York, and Miss Annie Pierston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Pierston, of "Chestnut Valley," Caroline county, near this city, were married to-day at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. H. H. Barber, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, of this city, performing the ceremony. Miss Mary Jeffery Campbell of Petersburg was maid of honor, and Clayton Williams, of New York, acted as best man. A reception and wedding luncheon followed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom, after a bridal trip South.
